

Dairy knowledge at your fingertips - Atlantic Edition

December 2019 - Volume 9

LABORATORIES HOLIDAY SCHEDULE

The holiday season is ideal to spend time with your family and loved ones and take time to relax. Although our various laboratories will be open during the holidays, the schedule will be slightly modified to allow our employees to enjoy the festivities as well.

The entire Lactanet team wishes you and your family a very happy holiday season and thanks you for your trust. May 2020 bring you health, joy and prosperity.

Learn more

KNOWLEDGE TRANSFER AND MILK QUALITY

Do you hire Spanish-speaking workers on your farm? Call Omar!

It was at the end of March, 2011 and that year, winter stretched a little beyond spring. « Esta muy frio » said Omar Sandoval as he set foot on Canadian soil for the first time! Now living in Quebec with his family, this Colombian-born man had to adapt to the reality here: « The language barrier was my main challenge. I wanted to have my diplomas recognized and to be able to interact with dairy farmers. »

See how our colleague managed to put his personal experience and expertise to the benefit of local producers and their employees.

Learn more

New workshop for producers

Sessions will be offered as of January 2020, in a area near you.

Register now!

Learn more

Don't miss our monthly article!

In this edition:

The story of Buddha:
a stressful life

Learn more

Events not to be missed!

Check out our Atlantic Dairy Industry Central Event Calendar for all the events happening near you.

Learn more

See you there!
